Tornado damage in New Brockton tops $1 million mark

The loud buzzing of chainsaws cut through the early morning silence and the stares of disbelief on the faces of residents more than told the tragic story last Wednesday morning as the city of New Brockton began the painful job of cleaning up following a vicious tornado that struck the Coffee County town the night before.

The tornado, which dipped out of a fast-moving front that had dumped over an inch of rain on the southern part of the state during the day, hit the city at approximately 9:30 p.m. and then skipped northeast toward Arton and the Elamville Community, causing additional destruction and minor injuries.

"There was no warning at all," stated New Brockton Police Chief Gordon Lueck, "no tornado watch, no tornado warning, no nothing! We all knew the weather was bad but nobody expected anything like this."

Chief Lueck stated he had just left a high school basketball game at the New Brockton gym and was getting ready to go to bed when the twister struck, and stated, "We've had tornados here before, but this is the worst I've seen."

Randy Mansfield, who lives downtown across the street from the police station, told friends that he and his mother were crouched in the hallway of the house as the weather got rough, and a wall less than 25 feet from their haven of safety was blown away by the toradic winds that totally destroyed the home.

Merle Hayes, who lives at a home on King Street with her sister, Nadine, stated she heard the storm coming and went out onto the porch with her, and after hearing a loud roaring sound went into the hallway of the home. The roof of the home caved in in all areas of the home except where the two sisters in their 80's had gone for safety.

A neighbor's home less than 50 yards away from the sisters' house suffered major damage and was without a wall, while the First United Methodist Church located across the street was completely destroyed.

The church, which was built in 1920, had long been a source of pride to all the residents of New Brockton, and as church members began to wander around the wreckage early Wednesday morning tears were shed for the remains of the house of worship. The altar, pulpit and several pews were spared from the twister, as were numerous books and the church's cross, which was damaged, but not beyond repair.

Church member Henry Holliday, who had worked extensively with other members in recent years to keep the aging building a thing of beauty, wandered through the rubble in search of undamaged items throughout the day following the storm, and despite the almost-total destruction stated, "We've got to get back together and start making plans as to where to hold services until we can get back in a church building. We spent a lot of hours working on this church, and we will just go back to work and start all over."

Neil Hughey, who lives in a mobile home on Ainsley Street, had left her home an hour before the tornado hit and returned home to find the trailer completely demolished. As she searched through the wreckage for anything of value not destroyed, she told friends that she had left because her husband didn't like her to be at home alone when he was out of town; his caution probably saved her life.

Play Willie Hurt, a resident of South Railroad Street, said it had been raining for some time when all at once the lightning got bad and the lights in her house began to flicker.

"I got up to turn off the TV and unplug it and all of a sudden the glass started to break and the roof caved in," said Mrs. Hurt. "My daughter was asleep in her bedroom and got her leg cut by some of the falling wood, but the storm ended as quickly as it had started and we all went into the front of the house. We were still awake when the second storm hit about two o'clock in the morning and it ripped the roof off the front of the house. That was when we left and went to a friend's home near Elba."

New Brockton Mayor Jim Driskell was visibly moved, but gave thanks that no one in the town was seriously injured.

"It is almost unbelievable when you look at the destruction that nobody was injured by either the destruction or the flying glass and debris," stated Driskell. "The damage is devastating, but at least no one got hurt!"

The Emergency Management Agency toured the area following the storm and estimated the damage at New Brockton at $1 million. The damage included 26 houses damaged or destroyed, six mobile homes destroyed, a warehouse totally destroyed and damage estimated at over $250,000 to the Methodist Church.

NEW BROCKTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH DESTROYED BY TORNADO . . . The United Methodist Church, located on Dawkins Street, was completely destroyed on Tuesday night, Nov. 25, by a tornado that dipped out of stormy skies and did over $1 million in damage to the Coffee County town. The picture above is made from the altar of the church showing the complete destruction of the outer walls of the 60-year-old building. The two turrets in the front of the church and a portion of the upstairs back and fellowship hall received severe damage, but survived the storm. The house pictured between the turrets received only minor damage despite being located less than 30 yards from the church.

Kinston man shot in deer hunting accident

A Kinston man is recovering in a Montgomery hospital this week after being accidentally shot during a hunting trip last week.

According to Covington County Chief Deputy Bill Shaw, Terry Bedsole of Kinston was shot in the back with a .243 caliber high powered rifle on Wednesday, Nov. 26, while hunting with a group of friends.

McAliley will not step down as district judge

District Judge Gary McAliley announced last week that he would not step down as Coffee County District Judge until he assumes his duties as the 12th Judicial circuit judge in January, 1987, ending months of speculation concerning whether McAliley would allow outgoing Gov. George Wallace to appoint his replacement.

McAliley, a Democrat, stated last week that he had met with Gov. elect Guy Hunt to discuss possible replacements as district judge, and after the meeting promised Hunt that he would not step down during the Wallace administration.

McAliley, who has served as district judge for 10 years, was elected as the new circuit judge last March over incumbent Sam Adams, a Wallace appointee, and speculation was that if Wallace appointed a judge to replace McAliley for the remaining two years of the term it would be Adams.

McAliley declined to say if he recommended a replacement for his district judge post, but stated that both he and Hunt agreed that the replacement needed to be a person "above politics and obligated to no certain group."

Elba schools to close Friday

The Elba City Schools will close all day Friday, Dec. 5, to enable students and fans to attend the Class 3A championship game between Elba and Crossville, in Crossville. The schools will dismiss for the week at 3 p.m. on Thursday afternoon and classes will resume as scheduled on Monday.

The local hunters were apparently returning from a trip to International Paper Company land between Opp and Florala when the hunters spotted some deer in a field near the road. Bedsole went around the field in an attempt to get behind the deer, while the other hunters also tried to surround the animals.

Shane Smith, also of Kinston, shot at what he thought was a deer and heard something fall; however, after arriving at the spot found Bedsole lying on the ground with a wound to the back.

The Kinston Rescue Squad

transported Bedsole to an Opp hospital, where he was stabilized and transferred to a Montgomery hospital. Bedsole was listed in critical condition after arrival, but his condition was upgraded to stable late in the week and it appears the young man will recover from the wounds.

Elba Piggly Wiggly to sell or close

The Elba Piggly Wiggly supermarket will be closing or under new management as of Dec. 13, according to a statement by store manager Tony Rogers. Rogers said last week the company was closing or selling seven supermarkets in the area, including the Elba store located in the shopping center on Troy Highway, across from Legion Field.

Rogers said Tuesday there had been no formal announcements of a new owner; however, negotiations were underway with at least one potential buyer for the facility.

BLACK AND GOLD DAY PROCLAIMED IN ELBA . . . Elba Mayor Bob English presents a proclamation declaring Friday, Dec. 5, as Black and Gold Day in the City of Elba. Elba head coach Mack Wood accepted the proclamation on behalf of the team and school as senior members of the football team look on.

Black & Gold Day proclaimed

Elba Mayor Bob M. English signed a proclamation Monday declaring Friday, Dec. 5, as Black and Gold Day in recognition of the Elba High School Tiger football team for their advancement to the final round in the state 3A playoffs.

The proclamation said in part "... We, the mayor and city council recognize the dedication and effort these young men have put forth in order to achieve this status. Superior sportsmanship, hard work and commitment to excellence are the watchwords of the Elba Tigers. . . we hereby request that all citizens show their support for the Elba High School Tigers by wearing the colors - Black and Gold - on Dec. 5."

Wendell Hart Scholarship is established in Evergreen

A group of Conecuh County residents has established the "Wendell Hart Scholarship Fund" to honor the memory of the late Coach Wendell Hart, a popular high school football coach at a number of schools across south Alabama, including Elba High School.

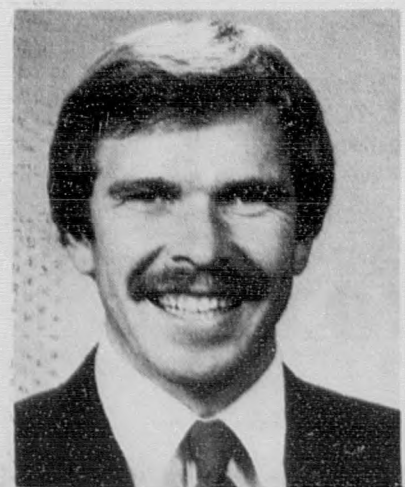

Donations to the fund are tax deductible and will be used to help worthy Conecuh County students attend college by means of an annual scholarship.

Coach Hart was a graduate of Evergreen High School and Millsaps College, and after serving in the U.S. Army in World War II returned to his home and in 1940 was named the head football coach at Evergreen High School. He later served as football coach at Elba High School and Lycettion High School.

Checks should be made payable to: Wendell Hart Scholarship Fund P.O. Box 1116 Evergreen, AL 36401

Salute to Elba

The City of Elba will be nationally recognized Saturday, Dec. 6, at 1 p.m. on WSEA TV-12 Montgomery, on the popular Hee-Haw TV program.

Elba native Sam Faulk, also known as "Dr." Sam, morning show host and program director on WLWI, will salute his home town.

"Dr." Sam also appears in other sketches with such stars as Pat Boone, George "Goober" Lindsey and Gordie Tapp.

The program was taped June 20 at the Hee-Haw studios at Opryland in Nashville.

"Dr." Sam is a 1972 graduate of Elba High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Faulk.

Brainstorms

With Ferrin Cox

We enjoy football as much as the next person... we mean enjoy it as a game, not as a part of our survival. We were glad to hear one of the coaches voice our feelings after the Alabama-Auburn game last Saturday. All the hype that had gone into the weeks before the game and the continued flood after the game is just too much. The Sunday papers had pages of words about that one game; I forget how many blades of that artificial grass were damaged by Humphrey and Fullwood. It was the same way last year and the year before, and maybe the year before that. Enough is enough - and it is just a football game; yet so much has been put on this game that friends are pitted against friends and whole relationships are destroyed over the outcome of a game. We need to get just as excited when a group of students get together and ace a six weeks exam!

The tornado that hit New Brockton last week did its damage. We feel for those who had losses, but are thankful they are all here to pick up the pieces and start over. Buildings can be replaced, trees replanted, etc. It is the human lives we should treasure most. The people of the area apparently conducted themselves properly as we didn't hear law officers knocking in any heads because of looters, etc.

You can get a shock in the Elba courthouse - for real. It seems that if you touch a piece of electrical conduit leading to a switch on the hall wall outside the probate office and the door at the same time, it gets your attention. We checked this report (verbally - not physically) and find it has been that way for some time. Boy, it wouldn't take a legal expert to win a lawsuit over that problem and with the rain we are having, we can just be thankful someone hasn't already been electrocuted.

The Kinston basketball program has been put on restrictive probation because of the actions of one fan who came out of the stands and hit an official. We don't approve of violence in any sport, but wonder aloud if there isn't a better way to punish than to restrict the children who didn't have anything to do with the fan's reported deed. Now they can't be a part of any tournament play, state playoffs, etc., for the whole year. It would have been the same if an Elba fan hit an official at the second football game. We would not have been in any playoff game at all... again because of a fan and not because of players and coaches. Again, we agree punishment is necessary - but to whom?

Last week we had compliments for the people of Silas in the way they conducted themselves at the football game down there. Well, a whole busload of those folks came to Elba Friday night to root for the Tigers! I told you they were good folks!

The price of art has gone through the rooftop recently. We read every week of new records being set in the auction price of various paintings. There has always been so-called art that really turned us off but recently we saw a report of a sale that should result in a long jail term for the seller and a straight jacket for the buyer. It consisted of some black lines set at diagonals on the canvas and a little corner painted a solid red. The thing sold at a multimillion-dollar price! Everyone on our staff has done that kind of art in making up ads in the newspaper and we were happy to get our column-inch price for the display ad... just think of the millions we sold our advertisers for almost nothing.

Researchers at the National Institute of Health have announced the discovery of a sober-up drug... or one that will actually keep a person from getting drunk in some cases. It has some drawbacks and we understand you can still drink yourself to death, but it would be a sober death. We wonder how long it will be before bars start passing out one of the pills with every third or fourth drink of whiskey and every half-dozen beers. Actually, the doctors say that would be unprofessional or something, but they are still moving ahead with their testing of the drug.

Lt. Col. Oliver North is the man selected as the scapegoat in the Iran arms sale deal. We have no doubt he was involved, but to say he did it on his own is an insult to anyone with at least an average intelligence. It is not unusual for the actual work to be done by someone of his ability; in fact all bigwigs, government or private industry are using or hunting someone just like him to do their work. It gives them more time to look and act important and someone to blame when the going gets rough. Also, who believes a lieutenant colonel could divert 30 million dollars without someone blowing the whistle on him... not me.

Letter To The Editor

I am writing in the hopes someone in this area can help me find my mother, Evelyn Brown, born 1907, in Alabama.

I believe she lived in Montgomery in the 1920's. I was born June 16, 1930, in Grasmere, New Hampshire. At age three months, I was abandoned in a hotel in Sanford, N.C. I was adopted by Sam and Sue Ingram, now deceased.

In 1931 my mother came to see me and left information about my birth. She had a friend named Estelle Calvert. It is very important I find my mother. Any help will be greatly appreciated.

Computer Instructor Programs ESJC As Basic To Success

Wanda Flowers remembers that, as an ESJC student from 1979-81, she was impressed by the attitude of the instructors at Enterprise State. "They really seemed to care whether I learned." Now that she's a computer science instructor at the college, Wanda knows that attitude is true. "I care about my students. We all want our students to do well."

After graduating from ESJC, Wanda worked full-time while earning her degree in computer science at night. "It would have been a lot harder for me if I hadn't learned at ESJC how to organize my time, how to set goals, and how to achieve those goals."

"ESJC's reputation for academic excellence should encourage students to enroll here," she adds. "Don't worry about not succeeding. There's so much support available, both from the faculty and from other students through the Tutorial Assistance Program. This is a great place."

Campus Beauty Pageant Is Success

BY: CONNIE FLOWERS

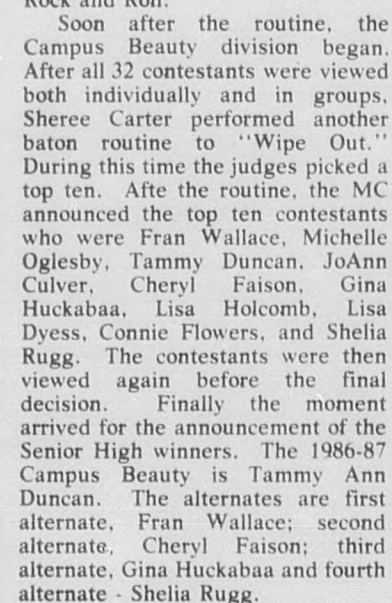

For most people the beauty pageant began November 15 at 7 p.m., but for the Rebel '87 staff it began a week earlier. In preparation for the pageant the staff had to type brief descriptions of each contestant, make numbers for both the practice and the pageant, and last but not least, the staff had to decorate. Friday, November 14, at 7 p.m., the staff met in the gym and began their three-hour job. By 10:15 p.m. the gym was ready for the ladies.

At 7 p.m., Saturday, the pageant began with the welcome and introduction of the M.C. and last year's beauties, by Mrs. Rachel Bryan, staff sponsor. After last year's beauties were seated and ready to view the pageant, the elementary contestants, individually, walked out from behind the backdrop to be viewed by the audience and the judges. After each girl was seen they were brought back out in groups to be observed again. The top ten were then chosen. They were Stacy Jimright, Michelle McIntosh, Kendra Ward, Amber Shiver, Shey Nelson, Amanda Wise, Amanda Williams, Amanda Ellis, Heather Vaughan and Tabatha Owens. After seeing the top ten, the judges made their final decision. The Elementary Beauty for 1986-87 is Kendra Ward, first alternate - Amanda Ellis, second alternate - Amber Shiver, third alternate - Tabatha Owens and fourth alternate - Michelle McIntosh. Following the crowning of the Elementary Beauty, Shere Carter, of Brundidge performed a baton routine to "Grease Lightnin'." Then the junior high contestants were viewed individually. Since there were only 12 contestants there was no need for a top ten. After the judges viewed the girls as a group, they made their decision. The winners for the 1986-87 Junior Beauty were Queen, Wendy Chancelor, first alternate, Bridgett Greenwood, second alternate, Laura Brown, third alternate, Shae Oglesby, and fourth alternate, Stephanie Nelson. After the Junior Beauty was crowned and seated Samella Green of Zion Chapel, performed a routine to "Old Time Rock and Roll."

Soon after the routine, the Campus Beauty division began. After all 22 contestants were viewed both individually and in groups, Shere Carter performed another baton routine to "Cape Out." During this time the judges picked a top ten. After the routine, the MC announced the top ten contestants who were Fran Wallace, Michelle Oglesby, Tammy Duncan, JoAnn Culver, Cheryl Faison, Gina Hucksbaa, Lisa Holcomb, Lisa Dyess, Connie Flowers, and Sheila Rugg. The contestants were then viewed again before the final decision. Finally the moment arrived for the announcement of the Senior High winners. The 1986-87 Campus Beauty is Tammy Ann Duncan. The alternates are first alternate, Fran Wallace; second alternate, Cheryl Faison; third alternate, Gina Hucksbaa and fourth alternate - Sheila Rugg.

Dr. Vicki Fountain is a successful veterinarian at the Animal Medical Clinic in Panama City. Her practice is limited primarily to small animals, exotic pets like ferrets, skunks and raccoons, and birds. But her office did treat the Lincoln-Mercury cougar, as well as the cougars and bobcats of some other brave clients. Fountain says she didn't always handle situations with assured finesse. "Mine was a small high school," she says, "and I had confidence problems. I chose Enterprise State on purpose: it was closer to what I had been used to, it helped me build confidence and it gave me personalized instruction."

While your future plans may not include working with exotic animals, you can still choose your direction. Let ESJC help you get there. Invest in yourself at ESJC.

Which Amanda Are You?

BY: SHARON POPE

"Which Amanda are you?"

"Now which one are you?" These could be questions heard from Mrs. Bryan as she helped the elementary girls practice for the beauty pageant. All of this confusion was caused by having four Amanda's in the elementary division of the pageant. That's right, four Amanda's - Amanda Ellis, Amanda Rainey, Amanda Williams and Amanda Wise.

This may not seem too confusing to some people, but to four little girls with the same name, being told what to do and which way to turn, it could get rather hectic.

PARTNERS IN EXCELLENCE READ-A-THON

BY: CAMILLE MARLER

Zion Chapel Elementary School is participating in World Book's "Parents in Excellence" Read-A-Thon. The students pledge on reading books from November 10 to November 14 to raise money for buying a set of World Book Encyclopedias. They have seven weeks to read books. Each classroom plans to raise enough money to buy its own set of encyclopedias. If the school raises $2,000, World Book will add $1,000, giving the school a total of $3,000 to use for the purchase of World Book sets.

For each student who reads a minimum of seven books and has seven sponsors, World Book will provide a certificate of achievement. Students who read eight books and have eight sponsors will receive a certificate and a silver medal. A gold medal and a certificate will be presented to those students who read ten books and have ten sponsors. A special dedication page with the names of participating students will be inserted in the "A" volume of the encyclopedias belonging to the class who raises the most money.

FFA ORANGE SALES ARE SUCCESS

BY: BRIAN MCLEOD

The Zion Chapel FFA has placed the final order for its annual orange sales. A total of 800 boxes were sold this year. The five kinds of citrus fruit sold were Navel oranges, Hamlin oranges, Tangelos, pink grapefruit, and white grapefruit. Mr. Stewart said that more oranges were sold this year than have ever been sold before. A prize will be given to the high salesman. The high salesman will not be named until the oranges are delivered around December 8. The purpose of the orange sales is to raise money for the Agri-Business Department to buy shop equipment and for expenses for trips to FFA contests and conventions.

TESTS AND MORE TESTS

BY: LISA DYESS

Many people think all you have to do to graduate from high school is to make good grades but there is a lot more than meets the eye. Let's start with the eighth grade. You must take a Stanford Test. This test simply allows the state of Alabama to know how much a child has achieved first grade through eighth grade. Now it's on to the ninth grade. To be a freshman you'll start with the Basic Competency Test (BCT) which is a preliminary test that you must get 70% correct or be remediated. You'll then take the Differential Aptitude Test (DAT). This test just shows the student's ability according to an occupation. One similar to the DAT is the Ohio Vocational Interest Scale (OVIS). This test goes to the sophomore level. It is similar in the way that it only shows what a student is interested in as far as occupation. The counselor gets the two tests together and learns the abilities and interests of the student and lead them into a career. Tenth graders must also take the Stanford again. Now to find out what requirements an 11 and 12 grader has, a junior must take the Alabama High School Graduation Examination. The test is given twice a year, first in the fall (October) and again in the spring (April). If there is still a part of the exam a student has not passed on those two testing dates, they are given another opportunity in their senior year. The students must fulfill these requirements and successfully pass twenty-two credits to receive a diploma on graduation day.

SCHOOL POLICY ASSEMBLY

BY: PETE BRYAN

Principal Nelson Whitehurst called the students at Zion Chapel High School into an assembly last Monday to explain several school policies to them. He stated that if students didn't obey the rules then action would be taken to enforce the rules. Mr. Whitehurst was particularly concerned with the fact that students were ignoring tardy bells. After the bell has rung for the class to get started, an excessive amount of students are still in the hall, the bell is not to remind students to get to class, it is to remind students to get class started," he stated. From now on any student in the hall after the tardy bell will be required to have a hall pass. The problem of noise in the lunch room was mentioned. Mr. Whitehurst asked the students to try and control the noise in order to make lunch more enjoyable for everyone. Principals of all schools will cooperate with the faculty at Zion Chapel to enhance the scholastic type atmosphere necessary for academic success.

CONCERT SEASON BEGINS

BY: BRENDIA MOBLEY

The band has now begun concert season. Mr. David Seanoor, band director, said, "Concert season is hard. The music is much more challenging and the technical level is much higher." Only playing music that is challenging is why the concert season is so hard. The annual Christmas concert will include several light pieces of Christmas music. Some of the all time favorites are "Winter Wonderland," "Holy Jolly Christmas," "Sleigh Ride," and "It'll be home for Christmas." This year's spring concert will have a patriotic theme. The band will also play several pop pieces that are well-known. The band will play at District contest around the first of March and will be judged strictly on their playing abilities on music that has been selected by the state.

SENIOR'S FUTURE PLANS

BY: LANE PARKER

Last week a senior poll was taken on what the seniors plan to do after graduation. Will they go to college, start to work, or get married? The results were similar in many areas. Most of the seniors who participated in the poll said that they would go to college to further their education. The colleges ranged from local colleges such as Enterprise State Junior College and Troy State University, to distant colleges such as Auburn University. The seniors who are planning to go to college intend to major in such things as business management, accounting, dental hygiene and engineering. Those who do not wish to further their education plan to find some type of work or join some area of the Armed Forces. Marriage is not presently on the minds of the seniors interviewed, but most have plans to marry in the future.

JUMP ROPE FOR HEART

BY: SHEILA RUGG

The Physical Education classes at Zion Chapel have the opportunity to participate in the Jump Rope for Heart. Jump Rope for Heart is sponsored by the Alabama State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation and Dance to benefit the American Heart Association. It is a statewide event designed to involve students in an aerobic exercise which focuses on the importance of lifetime cardiovascular fitness. The team exercise event is for students of all ages. Teams of six students take turns jumping rope for a maximum of three hours. Students secure pledges for each minute their team jumps. To be eligible to participate, the participant should sign up, sponsors to pledge a specific amount of money for each minute the team jumps during the event. The key to success is getting an many pledges as possible. The funds raised will support the American Heart Association with public and professional educational community service program and research.

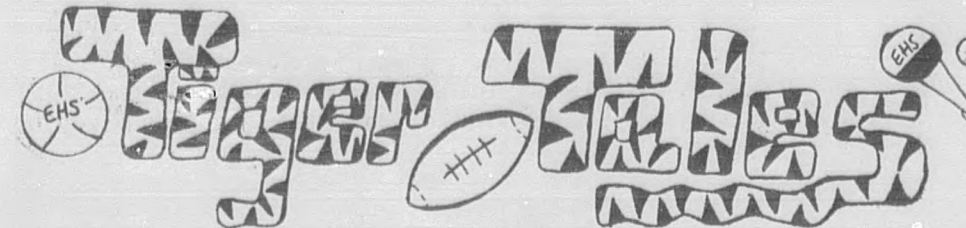

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

BY: TAMMY DUNCAN

Graduating from high school is very important to students and can be confusing when a student doesn't know if he or she has received the subjects needed to receive their diploma. For a student to be able to receive a diploma he or she must have 22 Carnegie Units and satisfactorily pass the Alabama High School Graduation Examination that is given to students twice in the eleventh grade and one time in the twelfth grade. If they should fail to pass the test while in the eleventh grade, a student's credits begin once they have entered the ninth grade. Ninth grade requirements include a unit of English, a semester of Alabama History plus a semester of Current Affairs and Contemporary World, and a unit of science, a unit of P.E. and a unit of math. A student must have passed four units to be promoted to the tenth grade. Tenth grade requirements are a unit of English, half unit of Health, one unit of Biology, and a unit of math. To be promoted to the eleventh grade a student must have ten units. Eleventh grade requirements include a unit of English, and a unit of American History. A student must have sixteen units to be promoted to the twelfth grade. Twelfth grade requirements are a unit of English and a unit of American Government. To graduate a student must pass twenty-two units and pass the graduation exam. To be certain that student has taken everything needed for graduating a senior checklist has been made. A graduating student must have had four units of English, one unit of Alabama History/Current Affairs and Contemporary World, a unit of ninth grade science, two units of math above eighth grade, one unit of P.E., half credit of Health, a unit of American History, one unit of American Government/Economics and a unit of biology.

Elbala Pageant To Be Staged Dec. 9

The Christmas season sets the tone for the presentation of the annual Elbala Beauty Pageant which is scheduled for Tuesday night, December 9, at 7:00 in the high school auditorium.

Student directors Kim Kelley, Susan Farmer and Danon Lowery have been busy instructing and preparing the participants for their house production presentation, according to Mrs. Helen McCollough, pageant coordinator.

Mrs. McCollough continues, "Attendance is prompt, spirits are high; and a general feeling of camaraderie is quite evident with each practice." The student directors quickly proclaim, "Never have so many lovelies performed so beautifully in the prescribed time!"

The annual pageant, a fund-raising activity, is sponsored by the yearbook staff and Kevin Killingsworth, editor-in-chief, extends an invitation to the entire community to come enjoy a delightful evening of fun and entertainment as thirty-six EHS beauties vie for the titles of Campus Beauty and/or Miss Bronze.

The thirty-six participants, elected by their respective homerooms in grades 10-12, include: Shiloh Allen, Darnet Bogan, Christy Brooks, Christina Carpenter, Linda Cook, Stephanie Crittenden, Shannon Elliott, Michelle Free, Lorie

Fudge, Stacy Galimore, Mandy Ham, Beth Henderson, Patricia Hooks, Melissa Johnson, Jill Maddox, Kim McBride, Connie McCants, Melanie Moore, Melissa Moore, Wendy Moulton, Tawana Nelson, Dawn Nolin, Alissa Parrish,

No More Kidding Around

As we grow up, we begin to put aside the toys we used to play with as a child. We also put aside some of the ideas we believed in as children, such as Santa Claus, The Easter Bunny or the Tooth Fairy, and, hopefully, we grow out of our childish behavior.

The world of a child is a very small one. In the development of his cognitive thought processes, he is the center of existence. Everything revolves around him and his needs. Growing up means expanding this world to include others and to understand their feelings and point of view.

As we grow toward spiritual maturity, we should grow in much the same way as a child. We put away things that don't benefit us anymore and the philosophies of the world are easier recognized as false. Our behavior becomes more Christ-like and we learn to focus our attention on the needs of others.

"That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, but speaking the truth in love, may grow up into Him in all things which is the head, even Christ." (Ephesians 4:14-15)

As you grow in other areas of your life, make every effort to show yourself mature and faithful in the things of the Lord.

I've gotten on the Elba fans pretty hard at times this season, and while the number of fans attending the games still isn't what it should be, I'll have to admit the spirit around town is picking up and most of the people in town have a case of "State Championship Fever!" The merchants have had their windows decorated for weeks, but last week Tiger fans placed signs all up and down the Troy Highway and the whole city was showing its true colors. It's great!!!

TIGERS ADVANCE TO 3A FINALS WITH OVERTIME WIN OVER LINCOLN

The defense rests! The Elba Tigers advanced to the Class 3A finals last week with an overtime win over Lincoln, and while the win wasn't particularly pretty, it was a win - and showed what the team is made of as it battled hard through four quarters and an overtime period and never gave up. Forget all the fumbles and mistakes the Tigers defeated a very good football team and came through with flying colors when it counted. That's all that matters!

The Tiger defense has carried the team for much of the season, and has been the key to the team's success in the playoffs, and Friday night put on a real show of guts and pride as it turned back numerous Lincoln scoring opportunities and registered a shutout. The Lincoln offense began drives at Elba's 44, 47, 25, 20, and 10-yards during the game and ran a total of 44 plays on the Tigers' side of the field; however, the defense refused to let the offense put any points on the board and definitely led the way to the win! Lincoln got the Elba 3' in the first quarter only to be knocked back to their 49; got the Elba 19 in the second quarter only to have to try a field goal; got to the 14 in the third quarter only to be pushed back to the 39 and punt; got to the Elba 22 in the fourth quarter only to once again be knocked back to the 40, and then got to the Elba 20 late in the game only to be stopped by an interception. The defense played under extreme pressure throughout the game and bent at times, but it never came close to breaking, and in the end broke Lincoln in overtime with a fumble recovery. The defense was simply outstanding and I hope the best is yet to come!

The explosive Elba offense fizzled Friday night and never threatened to score until the overtime period, but all the players on offense gave it all they had and I know they'll work extra hard in practice this week and bounce back strong. The rainy weather slowed the offense to a point, but the passing did look improved from weeks past and the backs ran hard against a very tough defensive unit. It's a little hard to believe, but the Elba offense crossed midfield only twice all night and the deepest penetration was only to the Lincoln 49-yardline. You can't win if you can't score and the offense knows it can score; so I'll just scratch last week's effort and look forward to better days.

In summing up the win, it was a true example of a team win! The offense couldn't move and made a couple of mistakes that put the team in trouble, but the defense picked up the slack and carried the load. The offense has marched to many important touchdowns during the season and last week answered two Southern Choctaw scores with long touchdown drives. A lot of teams have good defenses or explosive offenses, but championship caliber teams have the ability to win when one part of the team is having troubles, and such is the case with the Tigers.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP ROUND FILLED WITH INTERESTING MATCHUPS

The high school football season will officially come to an end this week when champions are crowned in all six classes, and all the title matchups are classic contests. Here's a look at each final:

- Class 6A - The undefeated Robert E. Lee Generals were everybody's pick to win the state title prior to the season, and the Generals have rolled over 14 straight opponents to make the championship round against the powerful Jess Lanier Purple Tigers. The Tigers are the pride of the north and have received a lot of ink, making this year's 6A final one of the best in years.
- Class 5A - The 5A finals have a couple of new names in Homewood and Gadsden, and both teams should add a new flavor to a classification dominated in recent years by Greenville, Eufrata, and Colbert County. Homewood is famous for having the state's best marching band and the Patriots have a chance to make everybody forget the band for at least a day and salute the football team.
- Class 4A - T.R. Miller has had one of the state's top football teams for a number of years and has a good shot at winning its second state title in three years against Litchfield. Miller has played at home every week in the playoffs and will make it five straight home games this week in the finals, so you can definitely say the Tigers' road to the finals has been a short one.
- Class 3A - The Elba Tigers made it to the 4A finals a year ago and were picked to battle for the 3A crown by sportswriters across the state as the season began; but the Tigers got off to a 1-4 record and were forgotten until a couple of weeks ago. Crossville made it to the 3A semi-finals last year and have rolled up 14 straight wins, making this final a battle of two veteran squads.

Class 2A - Cottonwood is the state's winningest small school team and the Bears are once again headed for the 2A finals against a very strong Woodland squad. Cottonwood has totally dominated Wiregrass football for many years and has won more than their share of playoff games, but has never won a state title, and this year has to believe the time has finally come.

Class 1A - The perennial powerful Sweet Water Bulldogs are in the finals again, and this time the foe will be Courtland, a team Kinston defeated for a state basketball crown a couple of years ago. Sweet Water Coach Nolan Atkins says his team isn't very good - but the team doesn't know that. I bet he won't tell 'em this week either.

The playoffs create a sense of excitement each and every year and do help the schools raise a little money for their athletic programs; however, I've got to recommend one small change. I would like to see the state designate where the finals will be prior to the season so everybody will know. This year was supposed to be the south's year to host the finals, but by the time the dust had settled four of the six finals were set for the north, and the teams from the south had to once again make plans to travel. I understand the setup and that the team that has traveled the most gets to play at home, but since Elba has had to travel across the state two straight years I've got to ask for a change!

KINSTON SUSPENSION RAISES QUESTION OF WHO REALLY GETS HURT

Kinston High School was involved in a very unfortunate incident two weeks ago during a game at Pleasant Home in which a Kinston fan struck an official at a basketball game. The school's entire basketball program was suspended until a hearing could be held, which meant postponing a game, and while the state did have to take a stand involving the incident, I feel the suspension of the school's entire basketball program was a bit too severe. The game was played at Pleasant Home, not at Kinston, which could raise the question of who is responsible for crowd control, and while the fan was a Kinston supporter, he was not a graduate of Kinston and not a representative of the school. Precedents have been established concerning fans striking officials in which the fans have been barred from all athletic events for a period of years, and I feel this is what should have been done immediately following the incident. I'm sure Kinston officials would have been glad to go to the state offices the day after the incident to explain their involvement, which would have possibly prevented the postponement of last week's game. I know the state association has to make a stand when such an incident occurs, but I just have to believe that the actions taken last week punished the students at Kinston High School, who were completely innocent of any wrongs. Maybe in the future immediate action can be taken to end the problem as quickly as it occurs.

YE OLE POLISH PROGNOSTICATOR . . . ONE MORE TIME

Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator slipped a bit last week in his playoff picks as he missed 6 of 12 predictions, but that still isn't too bad. This week will wrap up the playoffs and my picks for another year, and I'll try to go out with a bang. Here goes . . .

ELBA VS. CROSSVILLE

The Crossville Lions have cruised through the season undefeated and will have the home field advantage in the final round, while the Tigers will carry a 9-game winning streak into the clash and must travel almost 300 miles. The odds seem to favor the home team; however, the Tigers have managed to escape three playoff battles unscathed and seem to be a team of destiny! Elba 21 - Crossville 17

Elba Tigers To Battle Crossville Lions For Class 3A State Football Championship

The Elba Tigers will carry their dreams of a state football championship to Crossville this week for a battle with the Crossville Lions, and Elba's Coach Mack Wood states the Tigers will have a battle on the field with the undefeated Lions.

"Crossville has an outstanding football team," said Coach Wood after viewing a film of a recent Crossville playoff game. "The Lions are a big, strong, physical, fast and loaded with experience. They have big folks in the line and real talented people at the skilled positions. Crossville has a good football team every place you look."

"On offense," said Wood, "they run a wishbone similar to Pike County and have good running backs and a big, physical line. They like to run the powers and sweeps, but they also pass the ball extremely well and can hurt you deep. Crossville has a balanced attack and makes very few mistakes."

"On defense they run a split-40 and are very aggressive. They give you different looks and are very physical up front."

"For us to win," added Wood, "we'll have to play a good game on both sides of the ball and not make mistakes. Our offense will have to eliminate the turnovers, be more balanced and pass the ball to keep drives alive. We'll also have to run hard and block well against their big defensive line!

"On defense we'll have to be sound up front, have a good game in the secondary, be solid on the corners and scrap on every play. Our defense will be outweighed about 20 pounds a man, so we'll just have to play tough and be very physical."

"We'll also need to play as much as possible to keep them from hanging in there and feel it was a mighty big win for everyone in the program. The poor field position hurt us throughout the game and when it looked as if we might get something started we'd either have a turnover or get a penalty. Lincoln had a very good team and a lot of our problems were caused by their fine play. Our original game plan was to throw the ball in the flats," said Wood, "but the weather made us change our plans and our ground game just never got going."

"The entire defensive line played its best game of the year, as did all three linebackers and our rover. We had to make some adjustments in the secondary, but all in all the defense played outstanding throughout the game."

Crossville To Provide Big Challenge

When the Elba Tigers travel to Crossville Friday night to battle the Crossville Lions in the championship round of the state Class 3A football playoffs the Tigers will face one of the biggest and best teams in the 3A ranks.

The Lions, coached by Roger Hibbs, have posted a 27-1 record over the past two years with the only blemish on the record coming last year in the semi-finals of the 3A playoffs. This season the Lions are 14-0 with wins over Ider 40-23, New Hope 27-10, Geraldine 41-7, Collinsville 54-24, Plainview 20-6, Madison County 27-0, Fayette 31-13, Sylvania 35-0, Douglas 20-0, Pisgah 24-19, Pisgah 16-0, Stevenson 21-14, Lexington 35-14 and Lamar County 7-6.

The Lincoln offense is a multi-formation unit paced by the running of Jai Eason, a 202-lb. fullback, and quarterback Gary Bauldin, a 6'4", 195-lb. junior already being recruited by colleges across the south. Kent Jones complements Eason at halfback, while wingback Rodney White is the Lions' speedster, reportedly possessing 4.3 speed in the 40. The offensive line reforms from last year intact and averages over 200 pounds, making the Lion game plan simple: run over anybody who plays defense.

The Crossville 4-4 defense is noted for being aggressive and is anchored up front by two tackles in Edward Beavers (270) and Tim Williams (215), with defensive ends weighing in at 218 and 200, making the front wall a massive obstacle for opposing offensive units.

Crossville is an experienced club with a total of 17 seniors and 12 returning starters from a year ago and Lion fans are excited about their team's chances of winning the state 3A crown.

Crossville Isn't That Hard To Find, It Just Takes Awhile

The town of Crossville, Alabama, is located in DeKalb County, north of Gadsden, and while it may be a long way from Elba, it is not a hard place to find!

According to school officials, the easiest way is to go to Montgomery and get on Interstate 65 to Birmingham. At Birmingham get on the 459 bypass to Interstate 59 and head northeast toward Chattanooga. Get off the interstate at the Collinsville exit and after exiting go back to the left under the bridge on Highway 68. It will be 10 miles from the exit to Crossville and the stadium is located in the heart of town.

The visitors' stands are wooden, but reportedly seat 1000-1250 and are sturdy. The stands are open to the wind, however, and fans are urged to bring blankets to knock the wind off their legs.

Elba Tigers Blank Lincoln 3-0 To Advance To 3A Finals

The Elba defense turned back repeated challenges throughout the game and the offense put all the points it needed on the scoreboard in overtime as the Tigers advanced to the Class 3A championship game Friday night with a hardfought 3-0 win over the Lincoln Golden Bears.

The win upped the Tigers' record to 10-4, while Lincoln ended the season with an 11-3 record.

Elba received the opening kick and moved to a quick first down behind the running of Richard McKinnon and Stan Sauls, only to lose a fumble two plays later to set Lincoln up at the Tigers' 44-yardline! Lincoln marched to a first down at the 23 and got as close as the 19, but David Ammons caused a pitchout to go wide of its target. On a second-down play and linebacker Mickey Dunnivant recovered to give the Tigers the ball back at the 17.

An 11-yard pass from Sauls to Brian Free and a 7-yard gain by Leon Coleman got the Tigers out of the hole, and when Richard McKinnon broke loose on a 14-yard jaunt it looked as if the Tigers had a drive going; however, had the ball kicked loose as he battled for extra yardage on the big gainer and Lincoln was right back in business at the Elba 47-yardline. The Golden Bears moved to the Elba 36 in three plays, but an incomplete pass and a 3-yard loss on a draw play brought up a third-down-and-13, and on the big third-down play Warren Galtmore sacked the Lincoln quarterback for an 11-yard loss to force the Bears to punt.

Lincoln put the ball in play at its 27-yardline following an Elba punt late in the half and marched to the Elba 19-yardline behind the running of Lynn Pearson and Darrel Nix. The Tiger defense refused to let the Bears get any closer, however, and on the final play of the half a 30-yard field-goal attempt by Brian Wright sailed wide to the left, sending the teams in the half tied at 0-0. Lincoln's offense picked up in the third quarter where it had left off in the half as it received the second-half kick and promptly marched to the Elba 33-yardline. The Tiger defense again rose to the challenge, as on first down Matt Henderson hit a Bear runner for a 5-yard loss, and on second down Troy Sanders dropped the Lincoln quarterback for a 6-yard loss to back the Bears up at the 44-yardline!

A third-down pass fell incomplete as the threat went by the board, but Lincoln got the ball back four plays later following a punt as Elba yet another fumble at its own 25-yardline!

Lincoln moved to a first down at the Elba 14 behind the running of Walter Truss and appeared ready to pounce on the Tigers' defense on the 30-yardline, however, Lincoln quarterback Lynn Pearson was forced to scramble on a first-down play and the Bears were hit with a slipping penalty on the play to move the ball all the way back to the 43-yardline! Lincoln got as close as the 30, but could get no closer and chose to punt on fourth-down-and-26.

The Tigers were backed up deep in their own territory following the Bear punt and failed to punch it out, but Christian Fleming boomed a 51-yard punt on fourth down to get Elba out of trouble and give the ball back to Lincoln at its own 25-yardline.

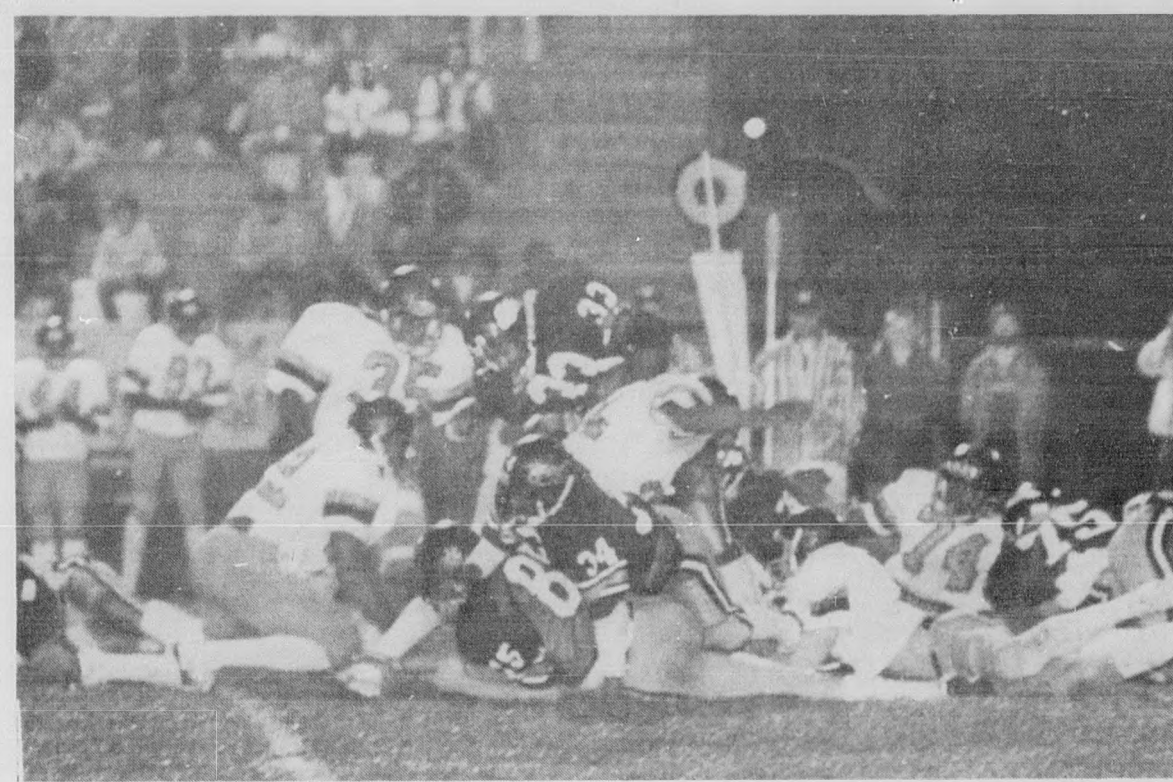

The Golden Bears moved to one first down before being forced to punt, but got the ball back on an Elba punt with 6:56 left in the game and began a drive toward the Tiger goal line. The Bears rode the passing of Lynn Pearson to Brian Wright to a first down at the Elba 22 with 3:04 left on the clock, but Jason Hodge and Scott Brown combined to stop a Bear runner for a 3-yard loss on first down, and after a second-down pass fell incomplete David Ammons dropped a Lincoln back for a 15-yard loss on a screen pass to stop the threat and force a Bear punt.

Elba had 1:38 to get the ball into field-goal range and moved to the Tiger 42 with 3:33 left in the game. The passing of Stan Sauls and a 12-yard gain by Richard McKinnon. The Tigers attempted to throw a screen pass on a first-down play in an attempt to fool the Bear defense; however, Lincoln was ready and an alert Golden Bear defender intercepted the pass and returned it all the way to the Elba 20 before being knocked out of bounds at the Elba 20-yardline with 22 still left on the clock.

Lincoln went to the air on first down as the Golden Bears chose to go for the touchdown instead of OVERTIME INSTRUCTIONS . . . Elba defensive coordinator Rick Rainer discusses overtime plans with members of the defense during a break prior to last week's overtime period. The defense needed only one play to take possession of the ball and lead the Tigers to a win.

Elba fullback Richard McKinnon (33) fights for yardage in the middle of the Lincoln defense.

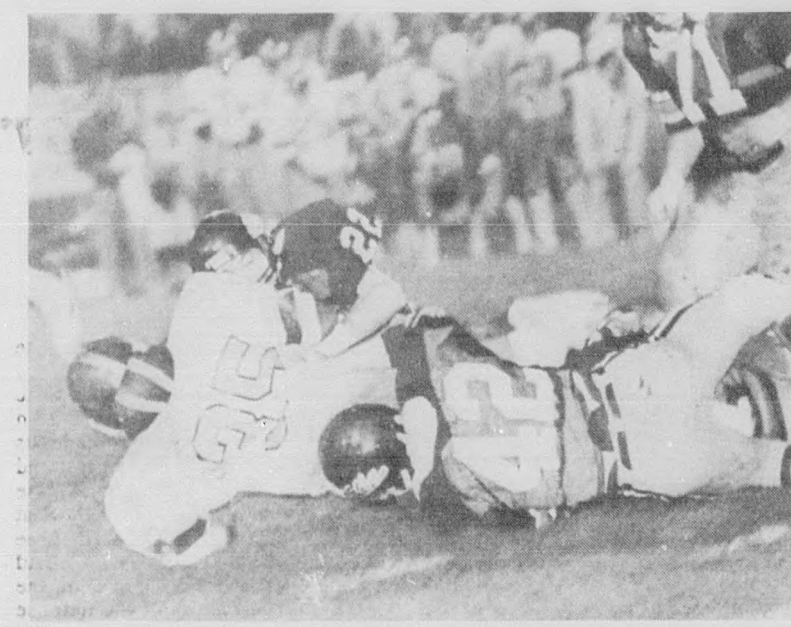

McKinnon was held to 71 yards on 16 carries, but the Tigers scored in overtime to post a 3-0 win.

The New Brockton Junior High basketball team continued its winning ways Monday night when they traveled to Headland and came home with an impressive 54-41 win.

The win upped the Gamecocks' record to 4-1, while Headland slipped to 2-1 with the loss.

New Brockton opened the game in a full-court press and took advantage of numerous turnovers to pull out to a quick 11-4 lead. The action picked up in the second stanza on both ends of the court and the Gamecocks remained in command as they opened up a 10-point lead behind the shooting of Malcolm Knox. Knox went out of the game with an injury midway through the stanza, but New Brockton remained on top and carried a 26-18 lead into the dressing room at halftime.

The pace slowed down in the third quarter as the Gamecocks began to work their offense for a good shot and the Gamecocks broke loose in the final stanza as they hit 10 of 18 free-throws down the stretch to claim the big win!

Tony James scored 17 points to lead New Brockton, while Robert Kilow and Malcolm Knox added 11 points apiece. Todd Boland pulled down 13 rebounds to lead the Gamecocks on the boards.

The Gamecocks opened the third quarter in a full-court press on defense and got their fastbreak game on track to take complete control as they stretched the lead to 59-41 going into the fourth quarter. New Brockton extended its lead early in the final quarter and then let the reserves get in.

Stanley Foster scored 29 points and grabbed 16 rebounds to spark the Gamecocks, while Steve Foster added 16 points and 11 rebounds.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart. In all your ways acknowledge him and he will make straight your paths. Prov. 3:5-6. You are the light of the world. Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and give glory to your father who is in heaven. Matt. 5:14-16. In all these is the life of my spirit. Oh, restore me to health and make me live! Jan. 35:16. His delight is in the law of the Lord. In all that he does, he prospers. Psalm 122:3. For everything there is a season and a time for every matter under heaven. Eccles. 3:1. This is the day which the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it. Psalm 118:24.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Belcher (Mattie), Elba, were guests of their children Mrs. Robert Earl Belcher, Mrs. Mary N. Harris and Mrs. Edwina Cheatham, of Birmingham for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Miss Barbara J. Kelley has returned to Mt. Vernon, N.Y., after visiting relatives and friends in Elba. Tuesday night as they posted a 42-32 win over the Leverne Junior Tigers, at the Gamecock gym.

The win upped New Brockton's record to 3-0, while Leverne fell to 1-2 with the loss, with both losses coming at the hands of the Gamecocks.

The Gamecocks came out in a pressing defense and grabbed a quick lead behind the 6 points outburst of Tony James. The game slowed down in the second quarter as both teams played well defensively, however, at the half New Brockton went in with a 21-16 lead. The Gamecocks slowed down the Leverne attack in the third quarter and turned up the Gamecock offense as Tony James poured in a 35-23 advantage after three quarters of play.

The New Brockton lead went to 42-25 early in the final stanza and the Gamecock reserves mopped up the impressive win.

Tony James scored a game-high 21 points for the Gamecocks, while Robert Kilow added 10 points and 10 rebounds. Carlton Golden scored 16 points for Leverne.

AN OUTSTANDING BLACK WELDING INSTRUCTOR

Mr. Jackie Robinson Woods, an instructor in welding at MacArthur Tech, Opp, is a 1970 graduate of Woodson High School and a 1971 graduate of MacArthur Tech in Welding.

He comes to MacArthur Tech with 10 years experience in the welding field. As a third class apprentice he began his career at Litton Shipyard in Pascagoula, Miss. He has been employed by Dorsey Trailers in Elba, Alabama Dry Docks and Shipbuilding Company, Mobile; and Galveston Shipbuilding Company, Galveston, Texas.

Jackie was born in Andalusia to Samuel and Anne Pearl Woods. He is married to Beverly Crittenden Woods, who is a member of Antioch M.B. Church, Andalusia. Her mother is Mrs. Annie Crittenden, and Rev. Willie Peterson is her pastor.

She is a Sunday School teacher and a 1976 graduate of Straughlin High School, and a year at L.B.W. College in Andalusia, majoring in Secretarial Science.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods are the parents of three children: Lakesha, Jackie and Jermaine.

Woods is a member of St. Peter Baptist Church, Andalusia. Rev. Feagin, pastor. In addition to his inspection certification, he has earned certification in all phases of welding through the American Welding Society. He has been certified with the U.S. Navy, U.S. Coast Guard, the American Bureau of Shipbuilding and the State of Pennsylvania.

Woods' elementary and high school years were at Woodson High School in Andalusia. He attended MacArthur Tech and L.B. Wallace Junior College, Auburn University, and Athens State College where he received his bachelor's degree in Education.

Through MacArthur Tech, Woods taught classes at Amoco in Andalusia for certification.

And oh, the awards and certificates he has received for outstanding and dedicated service during training courses for Amoco Fabrics Company, appreciation award to "the world's best welding instructor for outstanding leadership and guidance from the class of 1984," an award from MacArthur Tech, State Dept. of Post-Secondary Education, and post secondary Testing Institute (Area Test Center), National Occupational Competency Testing Institute (Area Test Center), a certificate of accomplishment in welding, and many, many more awards.

Woods is a very impressive young man, dedicated in his profession and of all things, he is a judo expert - 1st degree Black Belt. D. certified - Yun Sung - Instructor - Chung - rank - 6th degree Black Belt, Montgomery.

He said, "I work hard with my students and they know who's in charge. I respect them and they respect me, and since I have assumed the responsibility of the position, I will also assume the respect of the title. And to all the 'young folks' (his students included), he says, 'Develop your senses, read, listen and get a good education. I was motivated by a cousin, Mr. James Ward, a welder for the State of Alabama, to seize the opportunity for welding. Now I'm looking forward to a master's degree from Troy State University.'

I wanted to call him 'P.R.' - not the character on TV, nor the motive - but the initials for 'Jackie Robinson' Woods. I'll wait a while and ask if it's okay.

Mr. Woods, his lovely wife and children reside at 408 Clyde St., Andalusia.

The interview was well worth my time. God bless you Mr. Woods - your and your family were most kind.

VOLUME 90 THURSDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1986 ELBA, ALABAMA 36323 25 CENTS 1 SECTION 16 PAGES [Plus 1 Adv. Insert] NUMBER 23

ELBA HOME DESTROYED BY FIRE... A wood frame home located in the Mulberry Heights Subdivision was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday night, Dec. 2. An Elba policeman reported he had passed the home only minutes earlier on routine patrol, but returned to find the home engulfed by flames. In the picture above flames can be seen roaring from the home, which was unoccupied at the time of the fire.

Kinston High School to appeal restricted probation penalty

Kinston High School announced this week that it would appeal a ruling by the Alabama High School Athletic Association that placed the school's entire boys' basketball program on restricted probation for the remainder of the 1986-87 school year.

School officials stated they would not challenge the $250 fine that accompanied the probation, but would consider avenues of appeal concerning the restricted probation that prohibits any boy's basketball teams from participating in any tournaments during the season.

The Kinston High School team is scheduled to compete in the Opp Christmas Tourney, the Southeast Alabama Conference Tourney and the Area Tourney, while the Kinston Junior High team is scheduled to compete in the Coffee County Junior High Tournament, in Elba.

The fine and probation followed an incident at Pleasant Home in which a Kinston fan went onto the basketball court and struck an official. The game was stopped and forfeited and a later game against Opp was postponed until the AHSAA could hold a hearing on the incident. The final ruling was announced last week.

The Coffee County Board of Education met in regular session on Monday night, December 8 and following a discussion on the incident voiced support of Kinston's plan to appeal the restricted probation.

Coffee County Supt. of Education Clayton Bryant stated following the meeting that to prohibit the teams from playing in tournaments would "only serve as a means of punishing the kids that had no control over what happened."

State Supt. of Education states funding still below average

The latest rankings of the states show Alabama still lagging in funding for children's education and very low in tax support for public schools - something our state must be willing to address, State Supt. of Education Wayne Teague said last week.

The Rankings of the States, 1986, a nationally recognized research document published annually by the National Education Association on education funding and support for U.S. schools. This year Alabama continues its usual position in the bottom four or five states as relates to tax support for its children's education and low in expenditures per pupil. Alabama ranks 48th among the states in money provided for each student's education and according to Teague has some of the most overcrowded classrooms in the country, ranking seventh from the bottom in this category.

"Alabama is not paying for education in relation to other states," said Dr. Teague. "Thank goodness our people are beginning to see this and understand what it means - what it means to their children and grandchildren and what it means to the future of our state."

"When we look at the cuts in funding that our local schools have suffered in the last two years, just keeping the doors of our schools open is a miracle," the superintendent continued. "Last year we had proration declared at 4.2 percent and this year's proration rocked us again at 5 percent. When the proration cuts are added to the overall cutback of some $120 million in elementary/secondary funds from last year, you can see the problem."

"Our local school superintendents are unbelievable managers," Teague added. "Few people realize that some 80 percent of their budgets is fixed in salary costs which cannot be cut at all. Thus, proration and the rest must come from the remaining 20 percent of the budget. You try absorbing these kinds of cuts using 20 percent of your available budgeted funds and see how far you get. In some schools, we're lucky the lights are still on."

Teague said, "Alabamians are not overtaxed as some people would lead us to believe. This is why recent polls clearly indicate that our citizens are willing to pay more taxes in support of education. They also know the value of education to the future of their children, as well as to the state's future."

The state superintendent indicated that business and industry should take a long, hard look at the findings as they relate to the state's economy. As an example, the total value of household retail sales in Alabama is 51st or dead last at $11,577.

"If people are better educated and as a result secure better jobs, then earnings are greater and there are more dollars to spend. In spite of these low retail sales, some of our retail lobbyists fight increased funding for education. Hopefully, we can educate business to the advantages of investing in education."

As relates to teacher salaries, the superintendent said that Alabama has done well in this area in recent years and has moved closer to the national average. He indicated that this is good trend.

"Those who say that our state is overtaxed and enough dollars currently exist to support education have their heads buried in the sand of political rhetoric," said Teague. "Some of our neighboring states are having to cut back education funding and now is a golden opportunity for Alabama to put additional emphasis on education and go ahead of these states."

County Commission agrees to pay $33,529 in legal fees

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, Dec. 8, at the courthouse in Enterprise and agreed to pay $33,529 in legal expenses incurred during the lengthy court battle that forced several south Alabama counties to draw up new district lines for county commissioners.

The payment, which was only a small portion of the total bill shared by the counties involved, was to a group of lawyers representing the plaintiffs in a lawsuit that contended the method by which many counties elected commissioners was unconstitutional because to elect commissioners at-large diluted black voting strength. A federal court agreed with the lawsuit, and following the ruling all the counties involved redistricted their counties and elected new commissioners from predominantly black districts.

The commission originally objected to the legal fees, which included lawyers' fees as high as $250 an hour; however, county attorney Warren Rowe told the commission that to challenge the bill would only lead to even higher court costs. Rowe will tell the court this week that the commission wishes to pay the amount in three equal payments without an interest charge with the final payment coming prior to Dec. 12, 1987. If the method of payment is not acceptable, the commission stated it would borrow the funds and pay the bill in full as soon as possible.

Monday's bi-monthly meeting began at 9 a.m., with all members present, and after the routine approval of minutes the first order of business was to open bids on office furniture and supplies for the circuit clerk's office in Elba, which is currently undergoing extensive renovation. Enterprise Office Supply received the contract on chairs, calculators and files, while TAB of Pensacola, Fla., received the order for legal cabinets and storage files. The cost of the equipment will be paid for by the state, with the commission to provide labor for the actual renovation.

A representative of the Goodman Volunteer Fire Dept. was present at the meeting and asked the commission when the tobacco tax voted on by the people would begin being collected.

County attorney Warren Rowe told the fireman that a suit had been filed by the tobacco industry and that he had recommended the com-mmission wait until the suit was settled before it began collecting the tax money. Rowe said that if the commission collected the tax, it too would be sued by the tobacco manufacturers and would find itself right back in court. He explained that the suit contended the tax was unconstitutional and estimated the suit would take 6-12 months to complete.

Mr. L.M. Burch, represented by Elba attorney Mark Vaughan, addressed the commission and stated he was facing a $75,000 penalty issued by the Alabama Dept. of Environmental Management concerning an abandoned dump site north of Elba. The dump site was used by Burch several years ago as a landfill for the disposal of industrial trash by a company operated by Burch, but ADEM inspected the site recently and issued the penalty for Burch's failure to properly close the facility when it was abandoned.

Burch's attorney sought the commission's aid in covering the dump site and stated the site was used only because the county wrongly refused to allow Burch to dispose of the trash at the county's landfill. He further explained that if the site was properly covered and grassed, the penalty might be waived.

The commission attorney told Burch and Vaughan that it was illegal for the commission to do work on private property and told both men the county couldn't work at the site.

In other action at Monday's meeting the commission:

- sent out invitations to bid on an executive chair and an electronic cash register to be used in the office of the circuit clerk;
- awarded a bid to T & H Construction on the extension of lines for the South Crenshaw County Water Authority;
- heard of a problem of people dumping garbage on private property on the Green Horn Saddle Club Road near Kinston;
- authorized a Montgomery firm to apply for two grants totaling over $700,000 to establish and extend water lines in rural Coffee County, with the understanding that each water system would have to cover any cost overruns;
- approved a holiday schedule for county employees that consisted of all county offices closing at 12 noon on Dec. 24 and also closing all day on Dec. 25, 26 and Jan. 1 and 2;
- agreed to purchase additional

County shows projected population increase

The Alabama Data Center, located at the University of Alabama, recently completed a survey concerning growth projections in the state and the report shows that the population of Alabama is projected to increase steadily into the 21st century, rising by 24 percent or 961,434 people between 1980 and 2010.

Shelby County is expected to have the largest population gain during the period with 109,075 people, or 165 percent, followed by Montgomery County with an increase of 84,899 or 43 percent, and Baldwin County with an increase of 72,341 or 92 percent. Houston County is next with an increase of 42,430 people or 56 percent, followed by St. Clair County with 41,456 or 100 percent; Elmore County with 34,961 or 80 percent; Jackson County with 19,335 or 37 percent, and Autauga County with 18,078 or 45 percent.

The statistics revealed by the survey showed that Coffee County had a population of 38,533 in 1980 and rose to 40,500 in 1985. Projections show increases to 44,074 by the year 2000 and 45,289 by the year 2010.

Dale County is expected to have the largest population decrease, according to the survey, which shows a net decline of 6,260 or 13 percent by the year 2010. Perry County has the next largest decrease with 3,440 or 22 percent, followed by Wilcox County with 3,130 or 21 percent; Bullock County with 2,808 or 26 percent, and Sumter County with 1,231 or 7 percent.
